

Stage Intro

Our next speaker is adept at helping organizations focus on people, so they can drive positive organizational transformation.

After working with industry giants including multi-billion dollar organizations as an executive advisor, Pam Dibbs learned something interesting:

Results follow culture, NOT the other way around.

And so her life's work began in earnest: helping leaders revolutionize their thinking, reimagine their roles, and make the small but vital changes that rebuild entire organizations from the inside out.

Whether Pam's speaking on stage or tackling deeply embedded people challenges, she puts her finger on the pulse of employee experience with her signature British wit to help teams achieve breakthroughs that spark true, lasting change.

Without further ado, please join me in giving Pam Dibbs a very warm welcome!
